MESSAGE FROM THE DEAN

On behalf of all of us at the University of Oregon School of Law, I welcome you to this commencement celebration.

As the Class of 2021, you are completing your degrees in the most extraordinary way. We are inspired by your resilience and fortitude. What a remarkable story you will have to tell throughout your career and life!

Your positivity and resilience will serve you for years to come wherever you go from here. You join many others who have gone before you. For more than a century, Oregon Law has served the state, the nation, and the world through excellence in scholarship, teaching, and public service. On most days of the year, the members of the law school community focus their energy on learning and on applying that learning to the benefit of others. Today, however, we focus our attention on celebrating.

The Class of 2021 is poised for remarkable things. Along with the faculty and staff, I am pleased to welcome you into the ranks of our distinguished alumni.

Indeed, we are honored to welcome your family and friends in marking this happy occasion. We congratulate you on your accomplishments. Your time with us has helped shape our school and our community for the better. You have been inquisitive and industrious, dutiful, and diligent. We look forward to working with you, and learning from you, and celebrating your successes in the years to come.

Congratulations,

Words cannot express the gratitude I feel. To my parents, grandparents, sisters, brothers-in-law, aunts, and uncles: today is as much your day as it is mine. I wouldn't be where I am today without your help. Thank you to my wonderful professors and instructors, each of whom impacted me in different and meaningful ways. And to my friends here at Oregon Law: thank you for making the journey bearable—and dare I say fun. I won't soon forget the memories we've made together.

I am forever thankful for my family and friends who got me through this journey. I can never fully express my gratitude for those there at the beginning, the ones I found along the way, and especially the ones who are not here at the end. I appreciate all of your love, support, and guidance over the last three years. Above all, to Argos, whose mopey face, daily guilt trips, and incessant need for attention gave me a reason to leave the library and have a life outside of school.

First, I'd like to thank my mother, Cindy, for her support throughout my schooling over the last several years. It would have been impossible otherwise. Next, I'd like to thank my grandparents, Finos and Earline, for continuing to push me. I also thank my uncle Loren, who helped me decide to go to law school, and for helping me throughout. Most importantly, my fiancé and daughter, Alicia and Adeline, for dealing with me through law school. Lastly, to my father, Craig, who passed this last December. I wish he was able to see me finish law school.

A good man once told me that even at my lowest point, I'll still have my name, so I better make damn sure it represents something good. That message carried me throughout law school, and I'll be a better person and lawyer because of it. Don, thank you for that message. Mom, the foundation underneath all my accomplishments is your incredible love and support. Chris, I couldn't have continued school without knowing you're there for Dad. Thank you. And, Dad, thank you for your compassion, wisdom, and good humor during unimaginable adversity; you set a beautiful example for us kids.

My family has been the greatest support system I could have asked for. From walking out of my first law school final convinced I blew it, to dealing with COVID and "Zoom School of Law," they have dropped everything to simply be there for me whenever I've needed. I wholeheartedly share this achievement with my mom and dad, Bernie Sebastien and Steve McCoy, and my pseudo-parents, Scott Heiser and Liz Carle. Congrats guys, WE did it!

for your support, especially all the meals.
Shirley and Frankie, if you can read this,
I don't deserve you. Neal, thank you for a million things, I could never list them all.
You celebrate my wins almost more than I do and somehow manage to make my losses feel like wins. Thanks for sitting next to me on this rollercoaster. We can get off now!*

I'd like to thank my mom, who has relentlessly supported me in everything I've ever set out to do. There's no way I would've made it this far without her.

I'd also like to thank my dad and my older brother Chris, who've each been a constant source of guidance every step of the way. I love each of you very much and I'm thankful to have had you in my corner over the last three years.
